

Wang, Kevin

Kevin Wang is a Research Methodologist in the Program for Research in Survey Methodology at RTI International. Prior to working at RTI, Dr. Wang was a Senior Research Associate with the Assessing the New Federalism Program at the Urban Institute. He has carried out research on several aspects of survey data quality including questionnaire design, the assessment of bias due to nonresponse and interviewer effects.